PRESS RELEASE

This Union's Money Should Not Buy Chris Carney and The Sussex County Republican Primary.

Franklin, New Jersey – The pro-Biden gas tax union, Local 825, the very Union who stomped about on Newton Green to support the painful NJ gas tax increase, seeks to buy Chris Carney another Sussex County Republican Primary by stuffing Chris Carney's pockets with money. "No Republican should be in bed with a union that has supported Barack Obama, Hillary Clinton and Joe Biden," Roseff said. "Sussex County Republicans should never be captured and financially dependent on the biggest pro-Biden union in New Jersey." Harvey Roseff is a Councilman in Byram Township running for Sussex County Commissioner with running mate Robert D. Kovic in the June 4 Republican Primary.

"Those candidates showered with Union cash will deliver more blue, Democrat policies and management practices to Sussex County and Mr. Carney has been a chief beneficiary of large sums of the Biden- Gas Tax Union's campaign cash," said Kovic. "Our campaign is funded by real grass-roots conservatives who know we need to stop the corruption and mismanagement of Carney and his team." Kovic is an attorney and former elected official.

Commissioner Chris Carney is a member of Local 825 and actively helped the Union push for the huge, painful, controversial and regressive GAS TAX INCREASE.

Kovic and Roseff have endorsed Donald J. Trump in the full understanding that this must happen to begin a process of correction both in Sussex County and Washington DC.

"We support President Trump because he puts America First," said Kovic. "We're committed to putting Sussex County first and draining the swamp in Newton that gave us no-show jobs, raiding of the orphans' and injured children's trust fund to create jobs for political cronies, the Biden-Gas Tax Union and now the FBI which is looking into the Food Pantry."

"Families and businesses are suffering due to the onerous gas tax and catalogue of policy failures implemented by Carney and his pro-Biden cronies in his Union," Roseff said. "Incumbent politicians like Joe Biden, Phil Murphy and Chris Carney have failed the people of Sussex County over and over again."
